In these terms it is easy to see how Freudian theory might be used to understand criminal behaviour as a child and had continued into adulthood by dressing as a nun and living in a convent. They will highlight...