Pepperidge Farm has filed a lawsuit against Trader Joe’s, arguing that the retailer has infringed on the trademarked Milano cookies, a popular line of oval cookies. Let me start with the good news. FPL was given $200 million of federal money to install 2.5 million “smart meters” on homes and businesses throughout the state.[1]